Audition Piece

Hello? Is anyone there? Where am I? Nothing about this place looks familiar, but at the same time, it does. (Frustrated) I wish I could remember. I wish I could make my head stop hurting. Hello? Is anyone there? I'm alone in the creepiest place ever and I can't even see straight. Great. I know how I ended up here. I make one mistake, and I end up being punished for it. But nobody's perfect, right? Eventually, you'll be here too. Right now, it's easy for you to look at me, to judge me. But you have NO IDEA what I've been through and you're just as capable of messing up big time. Just like me. So, enjoy the show for now...soon enough, you'll be one of the acts. Trust me. It's only a matter of time. [END.]
